

Ann I. Dennen

Ms. Dennen is an expert in patent preparation, prosecution, and litigation. She concentrates her practice in prosecuting patent applications related to various technologies to include: computer software and hardware; electronics; and electromechanical applications.

Practice Areas

- Intellectual Property
- Patents
- Trademarks
- Trade Secrets
- Copyright Law
- Computer Law
- Internet Law
- Licensing
- High-Technology Litigation

P.O. Box 14340
Huntsville, AL 35815
Ann@DennenIPLaw.com
(256) 425-3406

Ms. Dennen has successfully practiced all areas of Patent, IP, and Trademark Law for the past twenty (20) years. She is fully versed in the intricacies of the many facets required to construct, submit, and defend this specialty area of law.

Ms. Dennen has a unique perspective due to her educational pursuits as an Electrical Engineer (EE) where she graduated with high honors.

She used her EE expertise for over eight (8) years with Federal Express, Nichols Research, Inc., E.R.C., Inc., and LESCO Government Contracting.

Through her exceptional understanding of technology and law, Ms. Dennen fully understands the scope and depth of complicated technical issues and responds with solid, defensible documents.

Pricing

Rate: $250/hour. Provisional Patent Drafting: ~$2,000; Typical High-Technology Non-Provisional Patent Application: ~ $7,000; Simple Mechanical Patent Draft: ~ $5,000; Prosecution of Non-Provisional Patent ~ $2,000; Limited Patent Design Work: ~ 2,000

Professional Associations

Alabama Bar Association
American Bar Association
Huntsville-Madison County Bar Association
Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers

Education

J.D., University of Memphis, Memphis, TN: 1996
B.S.E.E. cum laude, University of Memphis, Memphis, TN
Tau Beta Pi Engineering Honor Society

Bar Admissions

Alabama: 1998
Tennessee: 1997

Registered to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office: 1998